

IECA Australasia Online Community Guidelines

Welcome to IECA's online community forum. This is a place where you can connect with other members of IECA Australasia, exchange information, ask questions freely and post general queries seeking advice, assistance, or input from your fellow IECA Aust. Members and generally keep in touch with other IECA Aust. members.

We encourage you to engage, comment and post.

These guidelines apply to all content you contribute as part of the Communities, including your profile, and are designed to help make participation for everyone a positive experience.

Conduct in the Communities

Please be mindful of the following:

- Post only information that you are comfortable with others seeing — and knowing — about you.
- Do not post material that:
 - a) Is unlawful, harmful, threatening, abusive, harassing, slanderous, obscene or sexually explicit, defamatory, libellous, or that violates anyone's privacy or publicity rights;
 - b) Discriminates against, degrades or intimidates an individual or group on the basis of sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression, race, colour, religion, ethnicity, country of origin, age, disability, marital status, citizenship, genetic predisposition, carrier status or other characteristic protected by law;
 - c) Is false, deceptive, misleading or deceitful; or
 - d) Is not relevant to the subject matter of the site.
- No selling, solicitation, advertising, or promotion of products or services is permitted in the Communities. However, you may link to your own personal or firm website or blog.
- Be mindful of complying with all statutory prescriptions, legal restrictions and obligations governing professional conduct including those regulating communication, advertising, confidential information of clients and the privacy of individuals.

Reporting Inappropriate Conduct

If there is an issue you'd like to report, flag the content or action, send a message to admin@austieca.com.au. Please note that while the International Erosion Control Association (IECA) Australasia has no obligation to delete content that you find personally objectionable or offensive, we will do our best to address any problems that may arise. When there is a violation of our guidelines, we may:

1. Provide a warning to the offender;
2. Delete some or all of the content;
3. Temporarily or permanently terminate the offending member's account (we don't want to, so don't make us).

Things to Remember

- IECA Australasia is not responsible for the content provided by users on the Communities site and the content provided by users is their opinion and not that of IECA Australasia.
- Our guidelines may evolve over time and we reserve the right to modify or change these guidelines without notice.